Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

Despite the increasing attention sustainability issues have been receiving in all sectors, key indicators suggests an alarmingly insufficient lack of progress. A climate-change crisis is even nearer than we thought. A “sixth extinction” is underway, with a million species on the verge of being lost forever. Significant losses of arable land endanger humanity’s ability to feed a growing world population. Our oceans are deeply threatened. Inequality is growing. Violence and human migration abound. Furthermore, a large portion of the business community seems disinterested—only a small percent of businesses worldwide currently participate in the UN Global Compact or the Global Reporting Initiative.
