Message from the Guest Editors

The Special Issue titled “Information and Perception Technologies Development and Applications on Transportation Sector” provides an international forum for the dissemination of the latest original research, achievements, and developments in many areas of the transportation sector. The Special Issue aims to provide a multidisciplinary forum for researchers, industries, operators, and infrastructure managers involved in the different fields of the transportation sector to present innovative results and to introduce to a broader audience the more recent publicly financed projects aiming to introduce new technologies and innovation in the transport domain.

This Special Issue encourages scientists and industrial operators to publish their experimental and theoretical research about topics related but not limited to:

- New transport management systems to improve system management and sustainability
- Transport sustainability
- Introduction of new technologies in the transport domain to improve its efficiency and sustainability
- New platforms and demonstrators for innovative transport systems
- Multimodality
