Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue debates processes of sustainable urbanization in several scientific domains: urban planning, urban regeneration, intra-city food and energy production, self-sufficient cities, urban participatory processes towards a green economy, urban green financial tools, building-led green-innovations, urban sustainable mobility, and integrated sustainable urban development strategies, among others. As such, this Special Issue welcomes the following kinds of contributions

(a) Evidence-based papers illustrating and discussing the implementation of sustainable urbanization processes and their role in fostering integrative, circular, and sustainable urban planning and development processes.

(b) Theoretical papers that propose conceptual visions and appropriate methodologies and indicators to design, implement, and assess sustainable urbanization-related processes.

(c) Foresight papers showing future paths for sustainable urban processes.

Papers selected for this Special Issue are subject to a rigorous peer review procedure with the aim of rapid and wide dissemination of research results, developments, and applications.

I look forward to receiving your contributions.
