Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue aspires to analyse the current situation of gender and the agri-ICT sector in the European Union (and globally) and propose innovative solutions and approaches to advance gender equality/mainstreaming.

Inter- and multidisciplinary submissions are welcome on:

- Organisational design initiatives, such as dedicated networks, agri-digital innovation hubs, etc.;
- Identification of barriers to gender equality in the cross sections of agricultural and ICT sectors;
- Good practices from public and private entities with the aim to encourage women's employment, entrepreneurship and management positions in the agri-tech sector;
- The institutionalisation of gender equality/mainstreaming into organisations, including in policies, programmes, projects and/or services, structures, proceedings, and budgets;
- Rural women, agriculture, and digitalisation;
- Analysis of public policies and initiatives in the context of gender in ICT and agriculture sectors;
- Case studies offering valuable insights into strategy design, organisational change, mentoring programmes, and other existing innovative solutions;
- Other relevant topics.
