Message from the Guest Editor

Dear Colleagues,

The purpose of this Special Issue is to provide a collection of high-quality research papers covering a wide range of topics within environmental, resource and energy economics for both developed and developing countries. Areas of particular interest include, but are not limited to, valuation of environmental damages, sectoral environmental impact assessment, environmental pricing reform, environmental tariff, Ecotax, green economy, pollution haven hypothesis, emission trading, analyses of renewable and non-renewable resources, and energy-environment nexus. We also welcome original empirical and theoretical contributions to other aspects of environmental, resource and energy economics.
