Message from the Guest Editors

We invite high quality papers that present studies relevant to the implementation of innovative mobility services that promote sustainability in urban areas. The papers can target different domains including, but not limited to:

- Innovative mobility services for people and goods;
- Intelligent transport systems (ITS);
- Transport modeling;
- Behavioral modeling;
- Freight vehicle operations;
- Transport demand analysis;
- Transport economics;
- Mobility as a Service solutions;
- Transport policies enabling innovative mobility services;
- Smart city platforms for integrated and multimodal transportation;
- Big data applications for urban mobility;
- Behavioral change support systems for sustainable mobility.

We encourage the submission of studies that adopt multidisciplinary approaches.
