Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue focuses on the crucial role that financial markets and investors are expected to play in this framework. Specifically, sustainable finance may contribute to transforming the world through the provision of specific investment strategies, financial activities or financial products associated with these objectives.

For that reason, we encourage researchers to submit to this Special Issue all their current research about: sustainable investment decisions and asset allocation; the performance of bonds, mutual funds, indexes or exchange traded funds (ETFs) associated with SDGs; financial risk and opportunities caused by the SGD challenges such as climate change and the transition to clean energy; the relevance of microfinance or foreign direct investment in developing countries; or any other research related to the role of financial markets, financial institutions and financial actors in SDGs.
