Message from the Guest Editors

The purpose of the Special Issue will be to bring together scholars interested in the broadly understood pro-environmental approach to organisational management. We encourage an interdisciplinary perspective on an organisation and its milieu, combining an individual and organisational approach, bearing in mind that only comprehensive and multi-level strategies can result in environmental benefits. The list of topics below is by no means exhaustive; they are merely suggestions for scientific investigation. This special issue welcomes contributions presenting both conceptual frameworks, systematic literature reviews and empirical results in the following areas:

- green CSR
- green HRM
- constructing relations with business environment (including customers) on the basis of pro-ecological principles and guidelines
- pro-environmental education of customers
- green performance
- eco-innovations, extending the life-cycle of products
- leadership
- pro-environmental behaviours of employees
- ecological trends in consumer behaviours
