Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

This Special Issue of Systems invites contributions from scientists and practitioners from all backgrounds and experiences whose work is aimed at improving the health, quality, resiliency, and management of ecosystem goods and services.

Potential systems thinking application areas may include (but are not limited to) the following topics, how they impact (and are in turn impacted by) provisioning, regulating, supporting, and cultural ecosystem services, their conservation and management:

- Soil and watershed resources;
- Soil nutrient cycling and management;
- Water supply provisioning;
- Climate regulation;
- Flora, fauna, and fungi conservation and management;
- Agroecosystem processes and their goods and services;
- Systems thinking archetype case studies or applications;
- Systems thinking pedagogy for ecosystem education.

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Systems is a leading venue for the quick and global dissemination of results of cutting-edge research in various areas of systems science and systems-related fields. An increasing number of researchers are realizing the enormous potential of systems thinking in managing the many unprecedented and complex issues in all areas of need. The Systems journal provides a home of exceptional quality for the manuscripts of these researchers who often find it difficult to publish their work in conventional discipline focused journals.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SSCI (Web of Science), dblp, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q1 (Social Sciences, Interdisciplinary) / CiteScore - Q2 (Modeling and Simulation)
