Message from the Guest Editors

Oral cancer represents the most frequent malignancy of the head and neck area. Head and neck tumors, in turn, represent 8% of all malignant tumors and the fifth most common cause of death from malignant tumors worldwide. Among head and neck cancers, oral cancer has the worst prognosis, despite therapeutic improvements over the last 10 years. Our only real defense against oral cancer, at present, is secondary prevention and, therefore, early diagnosis.

The upcoming Special Issue will contain original articles, reviews, and an editorial with the aim of underlining the importance of the multidisciplinary approach: namely, the initial classification of the patient being conducted by multiple specialists in this subject area (oncologists, surgeons, radiation oncologists, pathologists, etc.).

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Targets is an Open access journal devoted to the fast publication of the latest achievements in bio-detection and therapy. It provides important supports for the development of the related interdisciplinary areas of chemistry, life science, biomedicine, material science, and environment science, particularly in new drug development, disease diagnosis, early warning and targeted therapy, life process study, food and environment safety monitoring, quality control of products, forensic medicine, and even anti-terrorism.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.
Rapid Publication: first decisions in 16 days; acceptance to publication in 5.8 days (median values for MDPI journals in the first half of 2024).
Recognition of Reviewers: APC discount vouchers, optional signed peer review, and reviewer names published annually in the journal.
