

Special Issue

Emissions, Environmental Behavior, Pollution Distribution, Modeling, and Risk Assessment of Persistent Organic Pollutants (POPs)

Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue will bring together cutting-edge research that addresses the emissions, environmental behavior, pollution distribution, modeling, and risk assessment of POPs. We invite authors to submit original research papers, comprehensive reviews, and concise short communications that contribute to the understanding of POPs in the environment. Topics may include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Sources and pathways of POP emissions;
- Fate and transport of POPs in various environmental compartments;
- Spatial and temporal distribution patterns of POPs in the environment;
- Advanced modeling techniques for predicting the behavior and impact of POPs;
- Health and ecological risk assessment methodologies for POP exposure;
- Strategies for the reduction and remediation of POP pollution.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Toxics (ISSN 2305-6304) is an international, peer-reviewed, open access journal which provides an advanced forum for studies related to all aspects of toxic chemicals and materials. We aim to publish high quality work that furthers our understanding of the exposure, effects, and risks of chemicals and materials in humans and the natural environment as well as approaches to assess and/or manage the toxicological and ecotoxicological risks of chemicals and materials. Please consider publishing in Toxics when preparing your next paper.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, Embase, CAPlus / SciFinder, AGRIS, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q1 (Toxicology) / CiteScore - Q1 (Chemical Health and Safety)

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 17.8 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.4 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the second half of 2025).
