Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

This Special Issue of Venerology is dedicated to recent advances in the research area of sexually transmitted diseases and comprises a selection of exclusive papers of the Editorial Board Members (EBMs) of Venerology. This Issue is a collection of research articles highlighting interesting results from the research groups of our EBMs as well as review articles in which our EBMs discuss key topics in the field. This Special Issue aims to represent our journal as an attractive open-access publishing platform for sexually transmitted disease research.
