Women in Virology 2025

Message from the Guest Editors

It is with great pleasure that we are launching this Special Issue entitled “Women in Virology 2024”, which aims to highlight the contributions of female virologists at all levels of their careers (early, middle, and advanced) around the world. Topics of interest include (but are not limited to) animal, human, and plant viruses as well as those related to diagnosis, pathogenesis, transmission, pre-clinical studies, clinical trials, antivirals, vaccines, immunology, biology, molecular virology, etc. All types of articles are welcome: short communications, original research papers, review articles as well as biographies or articles celebrating outstanding virologists who are women. Although articles where the first or senior authors are women are encouraged, submissions from all authors, irrespective of gender, will be considered.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

You are invited to contribute a research article or a comprehensive review for consideration and publication in Viruses (ISSN 1999-4915). Viruses is published in open access format—research articles, reviews and other content are released on the internet immediately after acceptance. The scientific community and the general public have unlimited free access to the content as soon as it is published. As an open access journal, Viruses is supported by the authors or their institutes by payment of article processing charges (APC) for accepted papers. We would be pleased to welcome you as one of our authors.
